

The Berkeley Bulletin

Volume 4

ENGN's Agenda:

The Engineers are heading to Autodesk and Pier 39, partake in the Sea Perch competition, and will finish the day with a few rounds of trivia!

HEAL's Deal:

Today, Medicine students are going to Fisherman's Wharf, Gladstone Research Institute, and will finish their day with a display of talent!

BIOT's Business:

Biotech students will head to Gladstone Research Institute, participate in a protein lab, and then travel to Fisherman's Wharf and end the day with a movie!

Today's Distinction: Leaders Have Incredible Strength of Character

Character is a quality that causes people to follow someone and not know why, or to look up to someone and want to emulate them for no specific reason. Leaders have such character. When they walk into a room they somehow stand out without saying anything. They "show up" as significant because of how they carry themselves, yet they never need to draw attention to themselves. There are many "characteristics" that most people like to associate themselves with, ones that leaders don't often think about, they just are. Leaders are compassionate, sensitive, understanding, and forgiving. They are powerful, energetic, courageous, and joyous. They are honest and authentic with themselves and others while being committed to the truth. They look for the positive in all situations without losing their grasp on reality. Leaders have the ability to persevere, never selling out or giving up on their vision, commitment, or values, while always accepting with humility the difficulties that life offers. There is an easy and peaceful way about them, a balance that is natural. Leaders redefine what it means to be alive.

COMM'S Corner

Journalism, Film, and Media Arts students will learn about communication history, comm workshops and DWC Classes.

Featured Staff Member: Bethany Bella

Bethany N. Bella is the Social Media Coordinator and is from Columbus, Ohio. She is a Bachelor of Specialized Studies at Ohio University, focusing on International Environmental Policy & Communications with courses in journalism, geography, and political science. She is a general body member of the Ohio University International Student Union, a member of the Southeast Asian Students Association, and an Undergraduate Research Scholar at the Voinovich School of Leadership & Public Affairs. Outside of school Bethany enjoys hiking, doing yoga, making puns and exploring California!

Featured Student: Sophie Noble

Sophie Noble is a Biotechnology student from Lake Bluff, Illinois. She is interested in biotechnology because she is interested in research, specifically studying and researching cancer. Back in Illinois, she runs cross-country and track and is involved with the student council. A fun fact about Sophie is that she lived in Germany for 4 years!

